

Expedited Review Process for Limited Off-Campus Course Offerings

The following process is designed to enable graduate degree-granting programs to offer up to three graduate courses (500- or 800-level) at a specific off-site location while bypassing the full procedure of review by the Graduate Council Committee on Programs and Courses. This process is not a substitute for proposals involving more than three courses, new courses, or degree program delivery.

Delivery Location: _____

Course abbreviation(s)/number(s) to be offered:

Faculty member(s) scheduled to teach each course: _____

Statement documenting the availability of library, technology, and other required resources (attach extra pages if needed):

Intended students:

Timeline [semester(s) courses will be offered]:

Procedures for informing current and prospective students that taking these courses does not constitute acceptance into, or the delivery of, a degree program (attach extra pages if needed):

 Department/Division Head Signature and Printed Name

 Date

 College/School Dean/Administrator Signature and Printed Name

 Date

Submit this completed form to the Office of the Dean of the J. Jeffrey and Ann Marie Fox Graduate School, 211 Kern Graduate Building.

 Chair, Graduate Council Committee on Programs and Courses
 Signature and Printed Name

 Date

 Dean of the Fox Graduate School Signature and Printed Name

 Date